LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Town Notes.

—The herring crop is plentifully safe.
—Mud snail has been cleaned up in places.
—Fresh fish of all denominations are plentiful.
—E. Jefferson, late baker, has moved to Moorestown, Del.
—Rev. C. A. Hill, Jr., preached at the M. E. Church last Sunday.
—Five or six new buildings will soon be under way in Middletown.
—The Commissioners will soon select a site for the proposed water works.
—The only original local communication received this week is a butcher's bill.
—The peach trees look like they are not going to be able to afford a spring surge.
—The new dwelling occupied by W. H. Johnson is receiving an additional coat of paint.
—Mr. E. R. Cochran expects a brisk demand for nursery stock, this season, and is able to meet it.
—Nearly one-third of the seeds in the hall have already been sold for the Josh Billings lecture.

—Robert A. Cochran, Esq., is confined to his home with a severe cold. Mrs. Mary Hanson is also quite ill.
—The bill amending the charter of Middletown (elsewhere noticed), passed the Senate on Thursday.

—Saturday may have been a good day for sugar beets, but it was a terribly bad day for a sugar beet meeting.
—The real estate of the late Mary Armstrong will be sold at Administrator's sale at the National Hotel, on April 1st.

—Vennor kept his last blizzard too near the fire before he let it loose. As a blizzard it was not a success, hereabouts.
—Will Middletown have a change of postmaster? Is a question that everybody can ask and nobody is able yet to answer.

—A number of the shop keepers have changed base. Col. Kato, still "holds the fort" in his old quarters.
—New spring goods are constantly arriving for the merchants, who have made full preparations for a heavy spring trade.

—Messrs. A. G. Cox and T. E. Hurn returned from Conference on Tuesday, both looking like they had been well taken care of.
—This is the season to beautify your premises with fruit and shade trees, and your home nurseries can supply you with excellent stock.

—A number of changes of residence were made during the week, and the first of the stone pipe is all up and the trouble ended by this time.
—Middletown has been extremely healthy during the winter, but it is not probable that we shall entirely escape the ravages of the spring fever.

—Don't miss an opportunity to invest in thirty-five copies of Josh Billings' philosophy, and laugh the colic out of your liver, if you have any in it.
—The store-room in the west end of the Town Hall is now unoccupied. This is one of the largest store-rooms in town, and ought not to go long without an occupant.

—Pilk & Long, the Olney phosphate manufacturers, are making large quantities of fertilizer for spring crops. They intend to further enlarge their works at an early day.
—The remains of Samuel B. Ford, Sr., of Elkton, whose death is elsewhere noted in these columns, were interred in Forest cemetery on Tuesday. The funeral was largely attended.

—William Lindsey, Esq., one of the most solid citizens of Chesapeake City, was in Middletown on Wednesday, and made the Transcript a friendly call. He reports all quiet on the Ohio front.
—Rev. Mr. Murray, at the close of Conference, took a voyage to New York, by steamer of the Old Dominion line, and has not yet returned to his flock. He is expected to return on Saturday.

—He was a quiet looking and mild mannered man. He was believed a new railroad will be "2" The hour of his funeral has not yet been announced by his friends.
—Railroad affairs are still a leading topic of conversation with our people, and miles of rails have been laid during the past two months, while a great number of new routes have been surveyed.

—A bill supplementary to the charter of the town of Middletown, intended to give the commissioners authority to regulate the promiscuous driving of cattle through the principal streets, was introduced in the Senate on Tuesday.
—S. M. Reynolds and Frank L. Nowland, of the firm of S. M. Reynolds & Co., are now in New York purchasing Spring Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods, which they will have ready for sale about April 1st.

—The exterior of the Citizens' National Bank is to be repainted at an early day. John W. Meakens has contracted to do the work. We're getting very particular about our appearance, on South Broad street. Perhaps you have seen the Transcript's new sign!

—The usual spring run of peddlers of stationery, comb sets, has appeared, but he shall not feel entirely certain that spring is come until the melodious strains of the hand-organ fall tenderly upon our ears, like the sound of a tin dinner-kettle going through a threshing machine.

—Rev. Mr. Alexander, of Forest Presbyterian Church, preached a sermon to young men last Sunday morning, and those who heard it speak of it as an exceedingly brilliant effort. A great number of requests have been made for a repetition of the sermon in the near future.
—You will get better seats and avoid some trouble by buying your tickets in advance for Josh Billings' lecture, Wednesday evening-early. There is no extra charge for reserved seats, and it is probable that more than half the seats in the hall will be taken before Wednesday.

—Alex. Maxwell is building a large double office on Railroad avenue, near the National Hotel. When finished, Messrs. Lord & Polk, phosphate manufacturers, will occupy one-half the building, and Col. Joseph Hanson, commission man, the other half. Each firm will have a general and private office in the building.
—Jean Davis, First Assistant Postmaster-General here, is one of the most accommodating fellows in Middletown. We have thoroughly tried his patience, and have been given him a dollar bill to change, then ask him to please stick the stamp on the letter, and after he gets it all fixed, ask him if he is sure it will go in the next mail.

County.

—The "Clilo" is running good freight for the spring season.
—Eschert Richardson has taken charge of the Gilpin House, at New Castle.

—There were twenty-four deaths in Wilmington for the week ending March 20th.
—The two entertainments in Odessa, last week, netted over $100 for Draywer's Presbyterian Church.

—Frederick Handy, a Washington correspondent of several daily papers, has bought the Newark Ledger, and a younger member of the Handy family will manage the paper.

—Newark is without a tailor, probably because she will not support one. We always give our work to our home tailor, though we have had him come to us with tears in his eyes and beg us to go elsewhere.

—J. Albert Reinhart, now principal of Stoughton school, Westchester county, N. Y., and formerly principal of the Friends' school at Woodbury, N. J., has been selected as professor of physics and agricultural science at Delaware College, to take the place of Prof. E. D. Porter, who has gone to the Minnesota University. Prof. Reinhart is a native of West Virginia. He narrowly escaped being an Ohio man.

—A young man named Armstrong, aged 17, living near Newark, attempted to commit suicide this week, by cutting his throat. His mind was impaired from reading medical almanacs. He was found through an assortment of that literature, he believed he had all the diseases therein described. He wanted to quit at once, and attempted to cut his throat with a knife, but was prevented by his father, who discovered him just in time to save him. He cut a small gash in his neck.

—Spring chickens have appeared in the Smyrna market.
—Large numbers of wild ducks are feeding near Fort Delaware.

—Masquerade parties are all the rage in Dover, three or four each week.
—Measles and mumps are giving the Georgetown children a rough time.

—Steps have been taken toward consolidating the public schools of Smyrna.
—Thieves are clearing up the poultry crop in the vicinity of Bombay Hook.

—Wilmington machine shops are converting many old cannons into car wheels.
—A new steamboat is now being built in Wilmington to run between Philadelphia and Philadelphia.

—Milford is shipping try root in large quantities to Philadelphia. It sells for four cents per pound.
—A hundred tickets for Josh Billings' lecture were sold the first day they were put on sale, at Dover.

—Argument in the Neal case before the U. S. Supreme Court at Washington, closed on Wednesday. The court held the case under advisement.
—A car load of Texas horses, from San Antonio, arrived at Smyrna on Monday, after a passage of eighteen days. Seven colts were lost on the way.

—An explosion occurred at Dupont's powder works on Monday morning. The roof of the rolling-mill was blown into the creek. No person was in the mill at the time.
—Reynard Williams, an old sea captain, a native of Milford, and well-known throughout the State, died in Philadelphia last week. He navigated the Delaware for a long time.

—By the recent sale of the P. W. & B. bonds for $131,750, the school fund was increased nearly $50,000, and that by the supplement to the Funding bill, $25,000 is to be added to this.

—A shooting match between Jake Poor and "Big Jim Powell," two Forest chaps, occurred on the night of the 17th inst., near Delaue's Church. Powell was wounded in the knee.
—The latest dispatch from Lewes, via rail-fence, gives the pleasing information that there are enough chickens left there about for seed. A year ago, at Rehoboth, the writer helped to eat one of the first pair of chickens brought over by the original settlers of Lewes. Perhaps the other one has been sacrificed that Conference might be happy.

—It is now thought that the Local Option bill stands but a slim chance of passing the Senate. In its stead a stringent license law will probably be passed, and it is stated that such a bill has been carefully prepared to meet the views of all the members of the Senate. The bill has not yet been published, but it is understood that it will contain a number of features, and also the creation of a liquor inspector for the city of Wilmington, who is to keep an untiring surveillance over the city, and bring those who break the license law to the notice of the grand jury.

—Maryland Matters.
—Robert J. Lantry, a well-known and highly respected citizen of the upper part of Kent county, died at his home, last Monday, in the sixty-fifth year of his age.
—Rev. R. S. Rife, recently pastor of Warwick M. P. Church, has been made chairman of sub-district No. 3, and will be stationed at Oxford, Md. Rev. J. B. Jones is appointed to Warwick.

—Both the Cecil and Harford county Agricultural Societies have selected the same days for their next annual exhibition—October 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th. It is thought they will, in a measure, conflict with each other.

—Rev. T. C. Guard, D. D., of Mt. Vernon M. E. Church, Baltimore, will lecture in the M. E. Church, Chesapeake City, on Tuesday evening, March 29th, at 7:30 o'clock. Subject—"Mental Activities of the Age and the Bible."

—Josh Billings.
Everybody has heard of Josh Billings, who makes "almanacs," and whose sayings are chock-full of fun and philosophy. The greatest humorist America ever produced, Josh Billings has come to the front as the most entertaining humorist of the age in the field, and his "Prohibitions of Life" has delighted thousands. Josh is announced to give this famous lecture at Middletown Hall on Wednesday evening 30th inst., and the large number of tickets already sold insure a big audience. Josh has made a great deal of money lecturing, and the writer has no more fun there is in him. It affects some people that way. Go hear him next Wednesday evening. It will not cost you anything extra to secure a seat in advance.

—Parlor Entertainment.
The ladies of the M. E. Church Mite Society have completed arrangements for their parlor entertainment, to be given at the M. E. Parsonage, on Friday evening of next week, April 1st. An entertaining program has been prepared, embracing instrumental and vocal music, original essays, selected readings, and perhaps a little parlor drama. The ladies and gentlemen who have consented to take part in the entertainment will be sure, endeavor to make it a pleasing affair. The admission will be fifteen cents for adults, and ten cents for children. The entertainment will begin at eight o'clock.

M. E. Conference.

The annual conference of the M. E. Church, closed at Lewes, on Monday. The list of appointments will be found in another column. Previous to adjournment, a vote was taken for the place of holding Conference next year. The result of the vote was, Middletown, 44; Cambridge, 44; so Middletown was selected. Royce, Matlack, Martindale and Murray were appointed a committee to arrange for the Conference exercises of next year. We take the following extracts from the report of Presiding Elder Martindale, of this district:

"The churches of the district are generally in good condition. Two churches have been built—one at Two Mills, Hillsboro' circuit, costing $1,700; and one at Perry's Corner, Queenstown circuit, at a cost of $1,300. At Church Hill, Queenstown and Ridgely the churches have been greatly improved. Preparations are being made for a new church in Miles River Neck, and for at St. Michaels. The Oakland camp ground has been purchased by the members of the Greenbush church. The debt upon the handsome church at Millington has been swept away by the liberality of Thos. Maltell, who, having paid $1,125, has cleared the church of its debt. The union of the church property of the district is $242,500, and the indebtedness but $3,300, and the parsonage property valued at $40,300, has but $2,900 against it. Only eight charges out of twenty-seven have any debt whatever upon their property."

"The Law Makers.
The Legislature met on Monday, and notice was given of a large number of new bills, in both Houses. The Senate unanimously adopted a joint resolution refusing to receive any new business after Tuesday at noon, and fixing the date of final adjournment at April 2nd. The House adjourned, amending by making the time of adjournment the 9th. Further consideration postponed. In the House, Mr. Bradford introduced a bill amending the law in relation to collection of taxes. Mr. Robinson, from the special committee on the subject, reported favorably upon the petition of John M. White for the impeachment of Derrick B. Morris, a justice of the peace in Indian River hundred, Sussex county. The report was adopted. The Senate bill to divorce R. Alvin Cochran and Emma Cochran was passed by the Senate, and will be sent to the Governor for his signature. Mr. Townsend and Wood-keeper voting in the negative. Mr. Robinson introduced a bill for the regulation of pilotage on the Delaware bay. The bill incorporating New Castle on Delaware Elevator Company was passed, also the bill authorizing the Levy Court of New Castle county to purchase books for the county.
